

Dear Sirs and Madams of the Dickerson Foundation,

My name is Sanjay. I am a student at said institute. Through the previous several months, I have had the opportunity to use several of the devices that your foundation has purchased; chiefly, I have had the opportunity to use the new Dell laptops that have arrived recently. In addition to their touchscreens, which are greatly assistive in taking digital notes, I have noted that they show a marked increase in responsiveness and performance from our previous computers. In my Physical Science class, they have been quickly adopted by all the students with glee- myself included! I have also had the chance to use the MacBook Pro laptops in the Dickerson STEAM class, as well as the equipment that accompanies them. These have played no small part in making STEAM one of my favorite classes.

Another of the resources you have provided us are the iPads. These have been adopted in many of my classes. They allow us to take digital quizzes, use various educational apps, and make use of online resources without having to book a laptop cart or the computer lab. They are particularly used in my Science and Language Arts classes, to great effect.

Finally, the various robots you have funded the purchase of have proven to be the most popular part of our school's Coding Club. Students have written several programs for these robots, and they have spurred many to join this club.

In conclusion, I would like to thank you, the members of the Foundation, on behalf of Dickerson Middle school for taking the time and initiative to purchase these devices which have so impacted our educations. I believe that knowledge of technology is an essential skill, and thank you for allowing us the opportunity to use it in such unique ways.

Sincerely yours,
Sanjay
